PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR DISARMAMENT PARLEY

THIS IS SAFETY WEEK
TAKE CARE

IS LA CROSSE SAFETY WEEK A SUCCESS?

WHETHER or not this city's first Safety week accomplished lasting good will remain to be seen during the succeeding summer months. The Automobile club has sought to lay before the people of La Crosse a matter that is their own vital concern, and it seems fair to assume that every thinking pedestrian and motorist alike will strive to co-operate by assuming a share of the responsibility that belongs to them. There are a few precautions that every motorist and pedestrian can take, and these cannot be reiterated too often nor impressed too strongly.

THESE RULES MOST VITAL

EVERY motorist should cultivate the habit of going around and avoid the serious fault of cutting corners. The tendency to cut corners is always present especially when the course is clear, but safety lies in making the round turn always. You must not be surprised nor hurt if some fine morning you are asked to report before the constituted authorities to answer to the charge of cutting corners. If you persistently forget to keep the rules you are going to get "on the nerves" of drivers who are keeping them.

* * * *

MAKE UP YOUR MIND TO DO THIS

Turn the corners in the right way always, even though the intersection may seem clear. Get the habit. Start to practice it today, and keep it up.

* * * *

THE RIGHT OF WAY AT INTERSECTIONS

THIS is likewise a very necessary rule for you to remember. It shouldn't puzzle you. As you approach a crossing keep a good share of your vision to the right. If you observe a car coming from your right, slack up. That car has the right of way. If that driver knows his rules, he will come right ahead so there need be no delay of any kind. While, of course, you have to keep a corner of your eye on the left side of the intersection, your immediate danger lies from the right. So keep your eye on the right crossing at intersections and you will have little trouble with this rule.

* * * *

JAY WYALKING

JAY walking is a very bad habit, and jay walkers ought to be "called on the carpet" and instructed just as surely as automobile drivers who violate rules. A jay walker—that is, a person who crosses a street diagonally, is like a ship without a rudder, and the chances are he will land on the rocks soon enough. There is no safety zone for a jay walker and the only security he enjoys is the cool and calm judgement of drivers of vehicles. Safety campaigns in many cities have centered around jay walking and many civic organizations have conducted campaigns of instruction to eliminate this hazard from the street.

* * * *

PEDESTRIANS—REMEMBER THIS

Keep to the regular crossings. Don't cross diagonally. The regular crossings are made for your safety. Co-operate with the other fellow by keeping this rule in mind and practicing it.

* * * *

TO EVERYBODY

THIS first Safety week, sponsored by the Automobile Club of Western Wisconsin, will fulfill its main purpose if every John and Elizabeth motorist and every Tom and Harry pedestrian realize that they owe each other a little service in this matter of accident prevention. Let us practice the rules and recognize each other's rights and we will all feel a lot better for assuming the just share of the responsibility that belongs to us.

GOVERNOR BLAINE CALLS ON CITIZENS TO OBSERVE BIRTHDAY OF THE FLAG

MADISON, Wis.—Flag Day, June 14, the anniversary of the birth of the American flag, is called to the attention of the people of the state in a proclamation by Governor Blaine Saturday.

"June 14 will be the birthday of the American flag," he says, "and therefore I feel that we should all be reminded to unfurl Old Glory to the breeze from our homes, our shops, and our offices.

"Our country was born in the midst of travail and strife, reared in the stern school of experience and now, grown to vigorous and prosperous proportions, here every citizen regards the flag with deep reverence and abiding affection.

"It is a symbol of democracy. It stands for quality of all men and women before the law. It represents equal opportunity to all her people in the struggle for existence. It guarantees life, liberty, and happiness without fear or favor. It offers sanctuary to the downtrodden and oppressed, and proclaims liberty and freedom to all the world.

"Let us then unite in observing the anniversary of the birth of our flag on Tuesday next, and be grateful for its existence."

Magill is Speaker

The principal speaker on the commencement program was Hugh S. Magill, field secretary of the National Education Association. The association which Mr. Magill represents has as its aim the spread of better education for the benefit of the nation and its future prosperity. It is an independent organization in the sense that it is in no way connected with the federal government. In itself it has over 75,000 members, and through its affiliation with the Teachers' association of forty-four states, more than 500,000 teachers of the country are brought under its influence.

Mr. Magill said in part:

"The public schools of this country are the people's own institutions since they are supported by the people themselves. The great purpose of the public schools is to train the boys and girls of today to be the proper kind of citizens tomorrow, and to develop in them the sort of character that will lead to better conditions in the future."

Regarding the position of the public schools to the church he said: "The public school should have a part with the church and the home in the development of character. If the great triumvirate of home, church and school work in harmony, the future of the nation is bright. To render service to society is the prime essential of education, and the future of America all depends on what is being taught in the public schools."

Start Public Schools

He cited William Penn and George Washington as the men who conceived first the idea of a great free public school system in this country. "Education is the only thing which can bring about a reform in the political

HIGH SHOE PRICES SAID TO BE RESULT OF ABNORMAL TIMES

Conditions Existing During the War Blamed in Trade Commission Report

DECLARE BUYERS' STRIKE HALTED FURTHER ADVANCE

Report Points to Big Profits of Tanners and Shoe Men

WASHINGTON, D. C.—High prices of footwear which obtained during 1918 and were increased in 1919 resulted from "abnormal conditions of supply and demand, both economical and psychological, arising from the war," the federal trade commission today reported to the house of representatives. The report was submitted in response to a resolution.

"Incident to these conditions," the report added, "were large profits taken by tanners, shoe manufacturers, jobbers and retailers," whose large earnings were declared to be "out of all proportion to the increase in their cost per unit."

The advance in the price of shoes finally was terminated by the "so-called buyers' strike" in the spring of 1920, according to the report.

Failure of leather and shoe prices to decline as extensively as did hide prices after the "buyers' strike" was attributed by the commission to a "tendency to base selling price of actual rather than replacement costs," and to the fact that other prices had not declined as much as had raw materials.

The report claims large profits on the part of the tanners, shoe manufacturers and wholesalers and retailers in 1918 and 1919. Earnings of 361 reporting shoe manufacturers representing 62 per cent of the 1919 production averaged 16.2 per cent on their total investment, according to the commission.

"Earnings of 32 typical shoe wholesalers and jobbers averaged about 22 per cent on the investment in 1918 and about 31 per cent in 1919. Earnings of 46 typical shoe retailers averaged about 25 per cent in 1918 and about 32 per cent in 1919.

STRIKE AT HOBERG MILL AT GREEN BAY IS SETTLED FRIDAY

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Settlement of the strike at the John Hoberg company paper mill was effected Friday morning when President Frank H. Hoberg signed an agreement with a strikers committee putting into effect the 16 2-3 per cent wage reduction ordered by the mill May 1.

The agreement signed settles a strike which has been in progress at the mill since May 1, when more than 300 employes walked out in protest against the wage reduction.

This action leaves but one more paper mill, the Green Bay Paper & Fibre company, closed. Settlement of the strike at this mill will be made in several days, according to union heads, who said that its president, John Welsh, was out of town.

ATTACK VALIDITY OF TWO FEDERAL RAIL COMMISSIONS

AUSTIN, Texas.—The Texas attorney general's department announced Saturday that the supreme court of the United States had granted its request to file suit attacking the constitutionality of the interstate commerce commission and the U. S. labor board. The supreme court informed the department that subpoena had been issued to the two organizations requiring them to appear before the court and defend their position, which the Texas suit attacks. The suit was filed June 6, the announcement said.

TIME SAVING ORDINANCE IS KEPT IN FORCE

Effort to Repeal Daylight Saving Measure is Defeated at Meeting of Common Council

CONTRACT IS AWARDED FOR REPAIR OF CITY STREETS

Limited Traffic Ordinance is Passed by the Council After Short Discussion

An ordinance to repeal an ordinance establishing daylight saving in the city, introduced by Alderman Newburg, was laid on the table after a motion providing that it be referred to a committee was lost by a large majority at the meeting of the common council Friday night.

Action taken by the council on the matter Friday night is interpreted to mean that the official time of the city will be in accordance with the daylight saving schedule, unless the body at a future time brings the ordinance up for repeal. Alderman Roellig supported the daylight saving plan in view of the referendum vote.

Street Contract Let

The council passed a resolution accepting the bid of the Illinois Petroleum Products company for the season's street improvement work at a consideration of $98,248.80. The Illinois firm was granted the contract as the low bidder. Plans and specifications calling for the repair of water-bound macadam streets with asphalt carpet coat were adopted.

A subsequent ordinance was passed bonding the city for $125,000 to be used for the permanent street improvement work.

Bidding considerably lower than the city engineer's estimated cost of the work, the Mankato Construction company was awarded the contract for proposed sewer extension on Seventeenth street and laterals. The contract was awarded at a consideration of $45,381.72. A resolution was passed for a bond issue of $50,000 for sewer extension work.

Pass Traffic Ordinance

An ordinance providing rules and regulations for parking and stopping of cars on the streets in the down town section was passed. The ordinance stipulates that cars may not be parked between Third and Sixth on Main street for a period longer than one hour, and further contains the clause that the vehicles must be parked parallel with the curb. From Fourth to Front streets on State, automobiles may be parked for any length of time at an angle of forty-five degrees. Similarly, cars must be parked at a forty-five degree angle on Pearl street, from Front to Fourth, and on Main from Third to Front. The ordinance will be effective after publication.

An ordinance providing for the bonding of the city for $12,000 for the repair of the vocational school was referred to a committee.

Submitting the only bid for the work, the contract for repairing the white way on Main street was awarded to John Pappenfuss at a consideration of $2,059. The money has been appropriated for the work and the board of public works was instructed to enter into contract with the firm for the work to be done immediately.

A resolution to pave with brick Second street, from Jay to King, Jay street from Second to Third and King street from Second to Third, introduced by Alderman Palmer was referred to the mayor's special committee.

Olson Gets License

Following considerable discussion on the advisability of the matter, Louis Olson was granted a Class "A" beverage permit. Olson was enthusiastically endorsed by Alderman Palmer as capable of conducting his business on the square and upon the recommendation of Alderman Roellig that he be given one more chance, the resolution was adopted. A class "A" beverage permit was also granted James Collins at the Stoddard hotel.

An ordinance providing for the regulation and mode of turning vehicles at the intersection of streets was referred to a committee. The measure provides that vehicles be forced to keep strictly to the right on turning at corners, and that no vehicle be permitted to turn only at the intersec-

TRIBUNE IS GIVEN CITY PRINTING JOB BY COMMON COUNCIL

Steps are Taken by the City Dads to Curtail Amount of Printing

MAYOR AND HIS SUPPORTERS SURRENDER TO THE INEVITABLE

No Argument Over Final Disposition of the Question

Mayor Bentley and his supporters in the council on Friday evening surrendered to the inevitable, and the Tribune and Leader-Press was declared the official newspaper of the city of La Crosse, succeeding the Bentley paper by virtue of being lowest bidder for the contract. The strenuous fight that was made a month ago against awarding the contract to the Tribune and Leader-Press in spite of its low bid had entirely petered out. The contract was awarded a month after the date required by law, owing to the delays interposed by the mayor's tactics to find some plan to keep his printing perquisite in spite of being high bidder, but there proved to be no legal way around the fact that the Tribune and Leader-Press had offered to do the work for less than the Weekly Review.

Curtail Printing

However, the mayor's supporters in the council saw to it that the city printing will be considerably curtailed now that it will no longer be published in the Weekly Review. The final act of the official paper struggle was the passage of a resolution authorizing the printing committee, of which C. F. Stornadt, the mayor's chief aldermanic lieutenant, is chairman, to edit the council proceedings before turning them over to the official paper for publication. Aldermen Mahoney and Anderson voted against the resolution, declaring later they did so because its purpose was evidently to cut down the volume of proceedings as much as possible in order to reduce the revenue of the successful bidder.

Incidentally, it is recalled that in the last two years the city has been publishing a much greater volume of official matter than ever before. The Weekly Review became the official paper two years ago.

Some curiosity was also expressed following the meeting concerning the probable fate of the mayor's announced intention, made public in his inaugural address, to add to the bulk of official publications the detailed proceedings of all committee and board meetings of the city government, which have not heretofore been published. The Weekly Review was at the time of the recommendation the official paper in which such proceedings would have been published, and The Tribune and Leader-Press was not then known to be low bidder for the city's advertising.

The battle over the city printing which was a feature of the May council meeting was entirely absent Friday night. The resolution awarding the contract to the Tribune and Leader-Press was introduced by Alderman Stornadt as chairman of the administration committee, and passed by acclamation without a dissenting voice and with no argument.

SAYS PITTSBURGH IS CENTER OF BASEBALL GAMBLING IN NATION

CHICAGO, Ill.—Pittsburgh probably is the greatest center of baseball pool gambling in the United States, the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church declared Saturday in the World Digest of reform news circulated by the church.

The board lists 120 towns, mainly in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and New England states, where it investigated gambling and presents copies of clippings from 24 newspapers telling of fatal quarrels growing out of gambling games. In the 24 cases 21 persons were killed and 18 wounded.

TOPEKA, Kan.—In the most sweeping decision yet handed down affecting the validity of the Kansas industrial court law, the state supreme court Saturday affirmed the decision of the Crawford county district court sentencing Alexander Howat to one year in jail for contempt. HARDING APPROVES U. S. BUDGET BILL

WASHINGTON.—The bill establishing a budget system of government expenditures was signed Friday by President Harding.

PRELIMINARY STEPS FOR CONFERENCE WELL UNDER WAY REPORTS WASHINGTON

Replies Already Received from Several of Nations Addressed by U. S. on Subject; Consummation of Plans Will Require Long Period is Belief

WASHINGTON.—Prospects for an international conference on disarmament were considered bright in administration and diplomatic circles Friday on announcement that responses of an informal nature had been received from several governments to which the United States recently addressed preliminary suggestions for such a conference.

Nothing definite in the way of actual diplomatic discussion has so far transpired, it was said, but it is understood that preliminary steps are well under way.

The announcement did not indicate from what nations the responses had been received. The general opinion in the matter seemed to be that considerable time would be required to bring about the proposed conferences.

Debate Peace Resolution

WASHINGTON.—The Porter peace resolution as reported by the house foreign affairs committee which would terminate the state of war between the U. S. and Germany and Austria without repealing the declaration of war was scheduled for debate Saturday with agreement already reached for a vote Monday.

Passage by the house Friday by unanimous vote of the Sweet bill consolidating government agencies which deal with former enlisted men, cleared the way for the peace resolution.

The senate was not in session Saturday.

Cockran Opposes Plan

Opening the fight against consideration of the Porter resolution under a special rule preventing amendments Representative Bourke Cockran, democrat, New York, declared he was ready to vote for peace, but not on the terms proposed by republican members of the foreign affairs committee.

Two hours were set aside for debate on the option of a rule giving the peace resolution right of way and providing for continued discussion until 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, the time fixed for a final vote.

Mr. Cockran declared that if the rules, preventing amendment on the floor, were adopted, nothing could be gained by discussing the resolution. The rule, he added, would put the house in a straight-jacket.

The New York member was loudly applauded when he completed his speech, many republicans expressing their approval of his remarks.

Attacking republican members of the foreign affairs committee for framing the peace resolution secretly Representative Flood, democrat, Virginia, opposed its consideration under "gag rule." He declared it was the first time in the history of the congress that an important question bearing on America's foreign relations had been made a party issue.

SIMS IS RECALLED LEAVE OF ABSENCE REVOKED BY DENBY

Admiral Ordered to Report at Once in Person to Secretary of the Navy

HAD ALREADY ANNOUNCED PLAN TO LEAVE JUNE 15

Denby's Action Taken Without Waiting for Word from Sims

WASHINGTON. — Rear Admiral Sims' leave of absence in England was revoked Saturday by Secretary Denby and he was ordered to report at once to the secretary of the navy.

Mr. Denby's action was taken without waiting for a reply from the officer to the secretary's cable asking whether he had been correctly quoted as attacking Sinn Fein sympathizers in the United States, in a speech delivered in London this week. Admiral Sims had announced that he would sail for home from England on June 15. He was granted leave of absence to go abroad to receive a degree from an English university.

The naval secretary's cablegram sent to the officer said:

"Remainder your leave revoked. You will return to the United States immediately and report in person to the secretary of the navy. Acknowledge."

Mr. Denby's order was not expected to expedite Admiral Sims' return from England. The liner Olympic, on which the officer already planned to return, was the first available ship for the trip when he booked passage.

FIVE INDICTED FOR SHOOTING DRIVER IN CHICAGO TAXI WAR

CHICAGO, Ill.—Six alleged employes of a local taxicab company were named in true bills voted by the grand jury Friday, five for the murder of a chauffeur of a rival company and all six for conspiracy and assault to kill.

The true bills are an outgrowth of the murder of T. A. Skirven, a chauffeur Wednesday night.

The warfare of the rival companies continues, with numerous assaults and shootings. Two loop hotels continued to be the storm center of the drivers fighting for patronage.

How a Lifetime is Spent

A French statistician has been dabbling with figures to find out just what man does with that precious thing called time. He concludes that at the age of fifty years the average man has slept 6,000 days, worked 6,500, walked 800, and amused himself 4,000, spent 1,500 eating, and was ill 500 days.

CLASS DAY EVENT AT NORMAL SCHOOL DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

Clever Stunts Feature Annual Entertainment at Local Educational Institution

The normal school class day exercises which were held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium proved to be one of the most entertaining and successful affairs of its kind. The hit of the occasion was the representation of the faculty as they appear at assembly time. The students were dressed to imitate the various members of the faculty and their success in intrepreting their actions showed keen observation. George Miller displayed an almost perfect likeness to Mr. Coate in appearance and action, and Sylvester Ilmlbn scord a hit with his interpretation of Mr. White. The rest were cleverly made up, and carried their part in a fine manner. Not all who saw the act are sure yet whether it was Edith Yeager, or Miss Fessenden herself, who appeared on the platform.

The second number was the class phrophesy, an act in which about ten of the seniors took part. Following this were songs by five girls, after which the class will, was read by Orville Osmundson.

In accordance with a custom which has existed since the first class graduated from the school in 1910 the president of the senior class, Herbert Bott, presented the lally to James Kevin, the junior class president. The lally is a lacrosse racquet, which is adorned with the class colors of every class which has graduated from the school.

The last number was the class song, sung by a chorus of seniors. Marjorie Palmer read the prologue and the epilogue.

Though work on the details of the program was not started until late, and but a few rehearsels were held, the affair was very successful. This success was due largely to the earnest efforts of the Committee in charge.

SAFETY LESSONS FOR AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

Power Plant (Ignition System)

1. After the mixture of gasoline and air is drawn into the engine cylinders and compressed, it must be ignited (exploded or fired) to force down the pistons and give power to the engine. This is accomplished electrically by the ignition system. The electric current is supplied by the generator or batteries, passes by means of electrically-insulated wire to the timer and from there to the spark plugs where it jumps in the form of a spark from one spark point to the other.

2. The principal parts of the ignition system are:
a. Magneto or generator
b. Batteries
c. Starter
d. Spark plugs
e. Timer
f. Wiring

3. Electric current is supplied to the ignition system either from the generator or batteries. The generator operates and delivers current only when the engine is running; the batteries can deliver current either when the engine is running or not. In ordinary running, the generator supplies enough current both to operate the car and keep the batteries well charged with electricity.

4. The batteries need careful and regular attention.
a. In cold weather water should be added about every 14 days; in summer about every 7 to 10 days.
b. Only distilled water should be used; ordinary water may contain impurities that are harmful to the battery.
c. If a funnel is used, it should be one made of glass or rubber. Metal funnels are conductors of electricity and are liable to spoil the batteries.
d. In cold weather special care should be taken to keep the battery well charged and full of distilled water. If this is not done, the danger of the battery freezing is increased. A completely charged battery whose specific gravity is about 1.275 freezes at 90 degrees below Zero; if specific gravity is 1.150, the battery will freeze at 20 degrees above zero.
e. The batteries should be well covered and protected to prevent tools, chains, or other articles from falling on and short circuiting the battery terminals.

5. The starter is an electric motor which takes current from the batteries and turns over the engine for starting. When the engine starts, the starter is disengaged from the engine automatically. Releasing the starter button brings the starting motor to a stop.

6. Spark plugs should not be screwed into the cylinder head too tight; they expand when heated and have been known to crack the cylinder.
a. Spark plugs should be kept clean, otherwise the engine may start hard, miss, or lack power.
b. Handle spark plugs carefully. A crack in the porcelain weakens the compression, permits leakage of the electric current, and completely spoils a spark plug.
c. The gap between the points in a. Spark plugs should b kept clean thickness of a thin dime.

7. The timer is a cam arrangement which automatically opens and closes the electric circuit at different points so that electric sparks are produced at the sparks plugs at the exact instant they are wanted. The timer requires careful adjustment and should not be tinkered with except by an experienced person.

8. Inspect all wiring terminals and connections at least once each month. The majority of automobile fires are caused by improper or defective wires and connections. All electric wires and cable should be kept dry and clean. Dirt, oil and moisture are liable to cause a short circuit. It is especially advisable to clean off all corrosion which might form at the battery terminals. When cleaning commutators, distributing discs, and contacts, use fine sand paper (not emery cloth.)

Automobiles and Railroads

9. The report of the interstate commerce commission shows the following concerning automobile accidents at railroad crosings:

	1917	1918
Accidents	2076	2270
Persons killed	1088	1161
Persons injured	3000	3109

10. One railroad reported that 95 out of 199 (47 per cent) automobile accidents at railroad crossings in 6 months, resulted from automobiles trying to cross directly in front of an approaching train. Of the remainder, 54 (27 per cent) resulted from automobiles running into trains (not trains running into automobiles).

11. It was reported by one large railroad company that in one year, over 500, crossing gates lowered to protect the public were run into and broken down by automobiles.

12. Another railroad company reports on actual observations of 33,589 automobile drivers at railroad crossings:

2907 (61 per cent) Looked neither way before crossing.
803 (17 per cent) Looked in only one direction.
80 (2 per cent) Looked both ways.

13. The railroads are doing their part to prevent accidents at railroad crossings. They have spent and will continue to spend immense sums of money for track elevation, watchmen, crossing gates, and alarms. Already the railroads have spent more than $100,000,000 for track elevation in the state of Illinois alone; but with 17,100 crossings still in existence, and because the average cost of eliminating crossings is at least $30,000 each, railroad crossing accidents will continue to occur unless the public too, does its share toward preventing them.

14. It is advisable never to cross a railroad track in high gear. Many accidents happen because cars become stalled while on the track. It is safer to shift into intermediate or low gear a reasonable distance before crossing a track.

15. All crossings should be considered as dangerous whether guarded or not; crossing bells are sometimes out of order; watchmen or gate operators may be off duty.

16. Be especially careful at crossings where there is more than one track. Do not cross directly behind a train that has just gone by. Another train may be coming in the opposite direction on the next track.

17. A train running 40 miles an hour goes 59 feet in one second and cannot be stopped in less than about one-quarter of a mile.—An automobile running 25 miles an hour can be stopped in 58 feet.—Which should stop, look, and listen at railroad crossings? The train or the automobile?

18. Accidents involving railroad trains and automobiles rarely ever kill or injure any one on the trains—it is usually the people in the automobiles who are killed or injured.

LINEMAN IS KILLED, ONE BURNED WHEN POWER IS TURNED ON

Root River Company Employes Working at Spring Grove When Accident Occurs

Peter Bakken, 40 years old, was instantly killed, and his companion, Albert Zick, 35 years old, was probably fatally injured, when the current was unexpectedly turned on a high power line which they were repairing a mile west of Spring Grove, Minn., Friday morning. Bakken was electrocuted while Zick was badly burned, especially in the stomach.

Both men lived in Spring Grove and were employes of the Root River Power company, which serves a number of towns in the southeastern part of the state. Bakken and Zick were married.

The two men had gone to repair the high power line west of Spring Grove. The current had been turned off to enable them to make the repairs. Suddenly at 11 a. m. the power was turned on at Mabel, presumably through a misunderstanding, and a high tension current shot through the wires.

Bakken's body was brought to Spring Grove and Zick was taken to the office of a physician there. On account of the serious nature of the burns it was believed doubtful if he could recover.

Floods and Forests

PUEBLO and its vicinity, with its hundreds of dead and millions of property loss, is a fearsome object lesson in the necessity of a progressive forestry policy in the United States. So, at least, declare certain investigators who attribute the sudden tremendous violence of the rivers which wrecked the city and its surrounding region to the denuding of the country on the headwaters of the streams. Bare of timber, they declare, heavy rains, which under proper forest conditions would have been absorbed and released down the streams only gradually, ran off all at once through the brooks and rivers over a wide area, mounting as they massed into the Arizona and the Fountain to a height beyond all calculation or restraint. The story of the Pueblo flood is the story of the robbing of the hills and forests, and the penalty which a short-sighted generation pays therefor.

It is an old story in China, centuries ago stripped of the trees upon its watersheds. Flood and famine follow each other in that pitiful country with the ceaseless monotony of a natural cycle. First the flood, then the drouth after all the water has vanished before its season, and then the famine. All claim human life. China has been paying the penalty a long time, and this years happens to be more desperately stricken by famine than usual. Thousands of lives have paid for the trees the ancient Chinese recklessly used without replanting.

Probably this country, in command of unlimited engineering skill and resource, can find a way to control floods that will avert a repetition of the Chinese history. It was being done in the Pueblo region: it was begun in Ohio after the disastrous rise of the Wabash, Miami and Ohio a few years ago. But it is an expensive, largely unproductive business, and as the collapse of several great dams in Colorado has just shown us it is not an absolutely certain solution. Now and then a rainfall of abnormal proportions comes, and before it even the best of engineering science must bow.

Why should we not summon to the aid of the engineer the forester, who as he builds the bulwarks against flood and famine builds also enormous future wealth in timber and fertility?

Champion de la Boxe

GEORGES CARPENTIER, who is reported to be a fighting man, is upsetting the traditions of the American ring in his training. Instead of keeping "open house" for all comers, and charging admission, Georges trains in private behind a high fence with a padlocked gate. Most of his training, write the pop-eyed American fight experts, seems more like play than work. Who ever heard of a boxer whose tastes did not run to stud-poker, dog-fights and the beating up of sparring partners, but instead to classic music and dancing? It is credibly asseverated that when, in inadvertent excitement during a strenuous training bout, M. Georges knocked down one of his assistants he aided the underling to his feet and begged his pardon for the undue force of the blow. More, it is said that during his boxing or bag-punching Georges takes care to wash his face, and that the towels used for the purpose are always clean!

We would not venture to predict what will happen on July 2, at Boyle's Thirty Acres. After the incredible amount of damage which Mr. Dempsey proved able to accomplish on the person of Mr. Willard in less than six minutes at Toledo we are not prepared to say what the gentle Georges may or may not be able to do about him. But we can perceive, even at this length of time before the battle, that something revolutionary is occurring in the realms of the ring. We are seeing a boxer prepare for a boxing match as if it was, in fact, an exhibition of strength and science, instead of a violent collision of brute force and butcher-lust. We are seeing a fighter who regards himself as a man and an athlete, and not as a half-human killer, prepare himself for meeting the hardest contest of his life as if were to be truly a sporting event and not a hazardous but remunerative job of work.

Although none too optimistic, we can not down the hope that at the worst Georges will make a good showing. Admittedly it is a purely sentimental wish, for it springs not from boxing judgment but from a belief that the ring would be better for a bit of the Carpentier tradition to tie to. Boxing is a great sport for the development of courage, self-reliance and self-restraint. Its present more or less demoralized moral atmosphere in professional circles, we conceive, would be vastly more sanitary and wholesome if the champion could be a fighter who was distinctly a sportsman and an athlete, rather than a fighting freak with a highly-developed money-getting instinct. Whoever the champion, he is sure to be idolized and imitated by the hero-worshippers, and it would help some if among the qualities they will find admirable were to be some admixture of mental and moral as well as physical excellence.

But we're not betting.

"Holding Up the City"

NOW that the fuss over the city printing contract has subsided in the awarding of the contract to the lowest bidder the Tribune and Leader-Press feels that it may with propriety lay before the citizens a matter from discussion of which good taste dictated abstention so long as this newspaper was an interested party in a phase of the question pending before the council.

We refer to the accusation made by the mayor, as part of the smoke screen he raised on the floor of the council and in the columns of his paper during his desperate struggle to keep the city printing contract as his own perquisite, that during the years the Tribune and Leader-Press was the city's official paper it had "held up the city".

We do not wish to labor any defense against this charge. There is no need. The city's books are the best evidence. They show:

Paid to the Tribune and Leader-Press the last year in which it held the city printing contract a total of	$ 405.30
Paid to the Bentley paper in the year just completed on the same contract a total of	$3,069.68

The Tribune and Leader-Press is content to entrust its defense against the charge of "holding up the city" to the eloquence of these figures.

FOR THE SUMMER

By RUBY DOUGLAS

Joan had been invited to lunch at the Civic Club rooms. She was the guest of her aunt, and she felt not at all thrilled at the prospect of a couple of hours spent over the lunch table with a half-dozen women whom she had never seen before.

"You may be a bit bored, Joan," her aunt remarked, "but it won't hurt you to know a few influential women. You may even hear of something interesting to do to help with next year's college tuition."

"Interesting or not—I have to find something Aunt Nell," Joan replied

She was an attractive looking girl of the athletic type, and the friends of her aunt found her a bright luncheon companion.

"I am trying to cut my living expense in the country this summer, and I'm torn between letting my mother's helper or my chauffeur go," remarked one of the guests.

"It's a far cry from one to the other isn't it?" asked Joan's Aunt Nell.

"Can't you drive—yourself?" asked Joan. Why any one could have a car and not drive it was beyond comprehension with Joan, who loved to run a car.

"Yes; but I am temperamentally unfit for it. I'm always in trouble with the village policeman or some one on the road."

Joan suddenly had an inspiration. "Why not discharge them both and try me—for the summer?" she asked, half in jest.

Her Aunt Nell looked at her to see if she were in earnest.

"Can you drive?"

Joan nodded. "Anything from Lizzette to Rolls-Royce," she laughed.

"And—do you know anything about children?"

"I can feed them, bathe them, correct their English, keep them out of harm—that's all. And—I love them," she added.

The elder woman looked thoughtfully at Joan for a moment. "Do you really want to do something for the summer? You're in college aren't you?"

"I expect to graduate next year, but I must do something this summer to help dad out with my expenses. I love the country. I love to drive a car—and I adore children. Why couldn't you try me?"

"I could—why not?"

Details were arranged, and inside of a fortnight Joan was established at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jonas as a general companion to the children and a helper.

It proved to be a very satisfactory arrangement, for not only did Joan drive Mrs. Jonas wherever she wished to go, but she took the children with her and kept them happy and well while their mother went her own way. She taught the boy of mine to help her change a tire, she showed the children how to dust out the rugs inside the car, polish the windows and do many odd tasks that took time. The boy put the water in the radiator, measured off the oil, screwed up the grease cups and learned to be a great help under the direction of Joan.

"You're a wonder, Joan," said Mr. Jonas when she had met him at the train one night with three nicely dressed and bathed children in the back seat. "Parker had nothing on you as a chauffeur, believe me."

"I'm having a wonderful time and getting fat. I shall be sorry to go back to college in September," she said skillfully slipping past one by one of the cars ahead of them on the road home.

On several evenings when she had to wait for the train and had parked the car at the usual stopping place she observed a good-looking young chauffeur who usually placed his car next to hers. Always this young fellow was reading during his spare moments.

"The train is late tonight," he remarked to Joan one evening as their eyes met. They were both looking down the track for the over-due express train.

"Yes—quite," Joan replied.

From that bromidic beginning their conversation grew into intellectual channels and Joan always managed to be at her parking place a few minutes ahead of train time in order to talk with the young fellow in the big foreign car.

She learned that he had been at the French front in the ambulance corps and that suffering from various after effects of the war, he had been ordred by his physician to do some easy work that would keep him in the open air.

"Therefore—I chauf," he laughed.

"And I? Do you know about me?" Joan queried.

"I know some things ," the young man admitted, saying more with his glance than with words.

"I, too, am a chauffeur," she announced. "I'm helping Mrs. Jonas with the children and driving the car while I'm resting," she laughed.

Then she told him how she happened to have the position, and it was not many days before they had made a trysting place, as young persons will who have no homes to ask each other into. They met during the summer evening and strolled along the water front or went out in a canoe.

Joan asked permission to take the children to the beach and frankly told Mrs. Jonas that she was meeting John Moore and that he enjoyed the children and helped to watch them at the water's edge.

"I never realized before what you are to me," Mrs. Jonas told her. "I feel as if I could not get along without you. The children are so happy and they've developed so much since they've been with you. My boy has grown to be quite a man and he's all wrapped up now in studying about the distance of the sun from the earth the number of light years Mars is removed from us and all sorts of things he's picked up from you and—"

"From John—please, Mrs. Jonas, he is crazy about astronomy and he teaches Gordon whatever he can. It is lots of fun and—"

Joan was blushing. She had been about to say that it was such a pleasure for her to be with—them all.

"Don't worry, Joan," Mrs. Jones said, sympathetically. "I know how it is. Be happy while you can. Have your youth and romance now. It is summer."

Joan felt as if she could never bear the end of this wonderful season, but as it drew to a close John told her that he loved her. He knew that he had no right, as yet, to speak; but he wanted her to know that he would think of her always, of her alone.

"I'll get strong and well, Joan while you are finishing college. Then I can get back into the game again and—"

Joan had turned away.

"Turn back to me. Let me see your eyes. And then—may I hope to have you, dear?" he asked when he had searched her eyes.

"I—I only took this position for the summer," she teased him.

"But you will take me—forever please?" he pleaded.

"I will," she said.

NUTS TO CRACK

Why is a selfish person like the letter "p"?

Yesterday's: "Why is a horse the most sympathetic of animals?"—Because he always gives the bit out of his mouth.

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

contribute—The "o" in the first syllable is like that in "connect". Use a short "i" and a "u" like the one in "unite". Accent the second syllable.

distribute—Accent the "trib". Pronounce the "i" in "dis" like you do in "disturb". The second "i" is the same as that in the word "triple". The "u" sounds like the one in "contribute".

coincidence—The "o" is like that in "coocy". Accent the second syllable, use a short "i", in both cases, and pronounce "dence" as though it were spelled "dense".

program—Long "o" is used here, and the accent is on the "pro". The "a" can be pronounced two ways—either as it is in "am", or as it is in "husband".

METHOD OF WRITING A CONTRIBUTION IS EASY ONE TO FOLLOW

"Kindly tell me a good way to write a contribution."—An Interested Reader.

First, choose the subject you are going to tell about. Suppose it is, "The Best Hike I Ever Took."

Think of everything about that hike you possibly can. Where did you go? When? What time did you start? How many went? What did you do? Any delays? Accidents?

As each point comes to you, jot it down in a note book or on some scratch paper. When you have accumulated enough notes to make the article complete, make a "map" of the story.

How Map Is Made

Rearrange your notes in the order that you will use them. On a separate sheet of paper write out the map which really is an outline such as you use for theme writing in school. As an example:

A—The start of the hike.
  1—What time we left Tom's house.
  2—How many were in the bunch.
  3—Delays.
B—On the way.
  1—Tom's sprained ankle.
  2—The rabbit we chased.

And so on until you have built up a skeleton of the whole story.

You are then ready to put on the "meat." Use a pencil and some scratch paper for the first draft. Follow your map closely. Don't give any part of the story any more words than you think is deserved.

Making Final Copy

Lay this first draft aside for a day or two. When you pick it up and read it after some time has elapsed you probably will discover a number of things that ought to be changed. Make these changes and then set out on the final copying of the story, if another rough drafting is not necessary.

Use pen and ink, or a typewriter, in making the last copy. Write on one side of the paper only.

When it is finished slip the manuscript into a stamped envelope correctly addressed to the Editor, and drop it into the mail box. Enclose a note if you wish, and should you want the story returned to you if it is not used, send a stamp along.

Leave the rest to the Editor.

Is There Feeling in a Cow's Horns?

FROM BIG LEAGUE BALL PLAYER

First Baseman Must Be Speedy

Written especially for the Boys and Girls Newspaper by Joe Judge
First Baseman of the Washington, D. C., American League Club

A slow-footed first baseman is in for a lot of bad sprawls. For example: The base-runner is bearing down on the first base bag. The ball is coming at right angles to the runner and will cross the base-line about a foot in front of him. If the first baseman isn't fast on his feet he is going to have a terrible time snatching the ball out of the air, avoiding a collision with the runner and at the same time tagging him out.

Always Throw Ball High

Plays must always be mapped out ahead of time. Say to yourself: "If I get that ball I'm going to throw it to second," or figure out something else you are going to do with it.

If the play goes wrong, just think fast and try again.

When throwing to one of the bases, throw the ball high. If you do not you may hit the base-runner and spoil a play. Throw directly at the base and let the baseman catch the ball on the run.

Don't Eat During Game

It is not wise to drink much water during a game. Better not drink any at all, but just gargle a little. Nor is it good to eat during a game.

One man I know of drank a bottle of cold pop and ate a "hot dog" during the play. About three hours later he died of indigestion. The cold drink, his hot stomach, together with the hot sandwich and his exertion during the game, doubled him up like a knife.

"Stone bruise" is a mean thing. It consists of a swelling of the hand, caused by hammering the ball on the palm. Soak the hand in hot water for about half an hour. This will cause the swelling to decrease and relieve the pain.

Boys

Are you a scout? If you are not, think about it. Join the Lone Scouts of America—an organization for, of and by boys whose basis is self reliance, co-operation, friendliness and self respect, and whose motto is "Do a useful thing each day."

It costs only a quarter to join and practically nothing thereafter. Think of the fun—hikes, tribe-meetings and good times galore. Each degree passed is rewarded by a badge. Service bars and special merit badges are also rewarded. Don't you think it is worth a quarter?

Parables of Safed the Sage

PARABLE OF SEEKING A SIGN

THERE is a certain city and its name is Smithville.

And the men of that town got busy, and they said, We will put this town on the map.

And they raised Fifteen hundred shekels. And they set up a Great Sign where the Railroad Tracks cross that he who ran might read.

And the sign said:

WATCH SMITHVILLE GROW
Greatest Railway Center on Earth
For information about factory sites and home sites write to the Secretary of the Smithville board of trade.

And they greatly admired their Sign, and they bowed down before it and worshipped it.

And the Electrick Light Company fitted it up with lights free, for they thought that Sleeping Car Passengers would make up in the night in order that they might Watch Smithville Grow.

And they hired a damsel whose name was Marguerite, but whom every body knew as Maggie Perkins, who was the daughter of the Druggist, that she should answer Letters of Inquiry, for she could punish a typewriter.

And they fitted up an office on the Second Floor of the Smithville First National Bank. And they had letters of gold upon the window, saying, Smithville Board of Trade.

And they expected Maggie to have writer's cramp answering the letters of inquiry.

And Maggie had nothing to do but to chew her gum and powder her nose and make dates over the telephone for the movies. For none of the thousands of passengers who rode through Smithville on the two railroads cared an Hoot whether Smithville grew or not.

Now about this time I visited Smithville, and they desired me to deliver an Address. And I said unto them:

It doth pay to advertise provided thou hast the Goods. But I do not watch Smithville grow.

This is the evil and adulterous generation that doth seek for a Sign, and the only sign that shall be given it is the sign of the prophet, Jonah, preaching and saying:

If indeed ye desire that Smithville shall grow, then do something to make people want to come hither. Improve your schools. Pave your streets. Paint up your houses and clean up your vavant lots. Destroy the weeds that grow everywhere, and plant flowers or green grass.

Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread and your labor for an electrick sign that is Nothing to Write Home About. Ye do worship an Electrick Sign, behold it is left unto you desolate.

Ye have proclaimed with great boasting the glories of your town, and have never done a Blooming Thing to make any one want to live in your town.

And a few weeks thereafter they sent me a marked copy of their Local Paper. And they were having a Clean Up and Paint Up week. And they were redecorating the House of God, and adding an hundred shekels to the stipend of the Minister, and their School Committee was considering how to improve the School.

And I thought of Maggie; for if this thing keepeth on, Maggie may have to get busy.

For Smithville is really beginning to grow.

AN EDITORIAL ON ADVERTISING

("These lines," explains the author, "are somewhat rough and brutal; but it is time that somebody talked plainly on the subject.")

Unless you deliberately pull yourself out of that class, you are just an ordinary "sucker."

Radical changes in values are going on daily; and unless you "get the game," know what's going on, you're apt to pay like the devil for your negligence.

The market on commodities is down; the market on investments is up; so it stands to reason that you ought to be buying in both markets, or in one anyway.

Now as to the details; how and where to buy.

Read newspaper advertisements.

In fact, any man who fails to read advertisements in these days is a fool from whom his money will soon be parted.

It pays better to read the advertisements than it does the news. Reading advertisements is a necessity; reading news is a luxury.

Read advertisements to know what things to buy, what investments to make. How else, except in a hit or miss, "sloppy" way, are you to get the information?

Practically every reliable, up-to-date concern advertises.

The more reliable and progressive they become, the more they advertise.

You are led, automatically, to the right places to buy.

Try reading the advertisements and acting on their suggestions.

Advertising advice is sound.

All fraudulent advertisements are barred.

If in times past advertising had risen to its present cleancut position of honesty and importance, the world would be lots better today.

Read the advertisements, trust them and you profit automatically. Use your good judgment, of course, but read the advertisements to enable you to give your judgment full play.

Look through the advertisements in this very issue. See how quickly you get a line on today's opportunities. Then form the habit of looking at the advertisements daily.

Speed up on the news enough to let you size up the advertisements and see how much clearer your mind will be, how much sheer happiness comes daily from the cheery advertising messages.

All advertising today has a value which it never possessed before.

THREE ARTISTS IN FINE RECITAL AT LOCAL HALL FRIDAY

Harpist, Soprano Soloist and Pianist to Repeat Success at Pioneer Hall Tonight

A delightful recital was given on Friday evening at Pioneer hall by three artists, Sonya Medvedieff, soprano; Philip Sevasta, harpist, and Lee Cronican, pianist, under the auspices of the Woman's Relief corps. The program, full of interest and excellently presented, was very appreciably received by their audience. The three musicians form a well balanced concert group and each possesses qualities which make the individual numbers distinctive and enjoyable.

Mlle. Medvedieff has a lyric soprano voice of peculiar richness and warmth, it is flexible and thoughtfully used. She interpreted her songs whether the Aria from "Le Cid" of Massanet, the Rimsky-Korsakov Romance or a little ballad with an unaffected simplicity of manner that was very pleasing. "Ecstasy," her concluding number, was a brief but brilliant moment with Mlle. Medvedieff at her best.

Signor Sevasta bore the ill effects of the bad atmospheric conditions upon the strings of his harp with great patience. The audience would have pardoned him had he evidenced the exasperation he doubtless felt. In spite of the difficulties he won many converts to the charm of the harp as a solo instrument. It has rarely if ever been heard to greater advantage in La Crosse. The rolling sonority of the bass was impressive and beautiful.

Both as a soloist and as accompanist, Mr. Cronican's work has merit. He gave three Chopin numbers with great fluency and as accompanist to Mlle. Medvedieff his playing was sympathetic.

The artists present the following program tonight at Pioneer hall:

The Joy of Love .... Padre Martini
Dance, Dance, O Maiden Gay .... Durante
Sonya Medvedieff.
Rondo Capriccioso .... Mendelssohn
Lee Cronican.
Aria .... Selected
Sonya Medvedieff.

The Nightingale .... Alabieff

Melody .... Kjerulf
Serenata Capricciosa .... Pinto
Dance .... Bellotta
Philip Sevasta.
2nd Polonaise in E Major .... Liszt

My Laddie .... Thayer

Daddie's Sweetheart .. Liza Lehmann

Public Debate

SERVES US RIGHT

Editor Tribune and Leader-Press:

For as much as many others have taken in hand to tell about daylight saving perhaps another word may be suffered.

We have here a fine illustration of the value of the old proverb: "Look before you leap," though I acknowledge that I am one of those who leaped without looking. That is to say that the difficulty that all found at once the ordinance was passed, was never thought of or mentioned until the thing was done. There was much discussion of other points but no one publicly at any rate mentioned the fact that we should have all kinds of confusion with the railroads, the countless auto tourists and our neighboring farmers and townsmen.

Many were very restive that the council did not at once pass an ordinance establishing the new time. It was very generally hinted that there must be some sinister influence holding the council back from doing its plain duty. Then the council acted and almost at once everybody discovered the confusion that all ought to have foreseen but nobody apparently did.

Now we are in it. The vote cannot well be undone. The council especially under the circumstances, having been roundly censured by many for not acting at once can hardly be expected even if they felt it wise on other grounds to go back on their action as directed by the mandate of the people. Let us abide by the results and learn wisdom by experience. If there is real difficulty in any special case may that not be almost entirely eliminated by turning our clocks to the new time and then making our program an hour later all along the line? E. C. DIXON.

MR. RILEY ON TIME

Editor, Tribune and Leader-Press.

Dear Sir: Havin noticed that wan man sthreet cars block the thraffic while the conducthor or motorman, Oi don't know whitch, is makin change, Oi am imphatickully aginst the savin av daylight. Whin this momentumous issue was placed before the dooly qualified clictors av this ward, Oi was a risidint but not a voter, for havin moved here from Minnesoty, it was takin the shtate six months and the city thurty days to be convinced that Oi was not a citizen av Oireland or some other country. And as Oi say, they pulled off the clection during the time Oi was on probation as a citizen av this fare community, which Oi hav iver since thought was a putup job, and Oi still hold the opinion that if Oi know anything about ward politics at all, Oi am thinkin Oi could have voted often enough to have inded this bizness av daylight savin, which has been so much discussed by authorities who never could save anything else. Oi hav always thought there was some ward pollyticks about the way Joshuay got the sun to shtand still, and now Oi know it. It is thrue thot if you move the hand av your watch way hour ahid, you will think ye are gitting up an hour earlier in the marnin, but ye are foolin nobody but yersilf. Oi hov lift the hands av me watch on standard skedool, and Oi hav determined for me own satisfaction that in reality the sun is not getting up anny earlier at nolght. The trouble in the mash-cenery av our government is that ivverybody must have a law to make somebody else do sumpthin, or to shtop him from dooin sumpthin, until ivverybody, good or bad, is raystricted in wan or more respiets. If ye are wan av those who must roise urly in the marnin, there is no law, shtatchoot, or mandate to shtop ye. Git up if ye want to, and if ye want to go to wurruk urlier in the marnin, take it up with your siction boss, and if he will not take it up to the Milwaukee fur ye, give it to the attintion av your grievance cummitty. Maybe ye do be wurrkin for the Northwistern, but ayven if ye own a shtore, tell the peepul the truth about yeer hours. Most av the gardening Oi have seen dun in this fare city by daylight savin, Oi wud not be afther bein caught at aytalt in darklight and Oi have been thinkin all the time thot it wud be better to sit our clocks by the moon which takes twinty-five hours to go around and which wud in real-lutly give us a longer day which wud be twinty-five hours long ivery day. And since Oi know that manny farmers sit their hens, and plant their pottaties by the moon, Oi am thinkin we could be doin the same with our clocks. Oi am most riddy to answer anny and all criticizm av me ideas and most av the fishermen Oi know might be for daylight savin before they went fishin, it being harrud for them to git up urly enough, but they are not foolin the fish, and wud prefer to come home afther dark. Oi have an affiliation with the A. F. L., but to be fare will say Oi hav not much av one for a pick and shovel.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF RUNNING DOWN GIRL BOUND OVER

Mrs. Grace Miller Held to Circuit Court; Failed to Stop After Hitting Girl, Charge

Mrs. Grace Miller, charged with failing to stop after running down a person with an automobile, was held under $500 bail for trial in circuit court by County Judge Brindley Friday afternoon. Bond was furnished by George Holzhammer.

Mary Silha, who charges that she was run down by Mrs. Miller, testified that she was walking on the right side of the Mormon Coulee road and that she was struck from behind by Mrs. Miller's car which was being driven on the wrong side of the road. Miss Silha also testified that when Mrs. Miller came to see her at the hospital she asked Mrs. Miller why she didn't stop. Mrs. Miller said she didn't think she had struck a grown-up person, according to Miss Silha, but thought it was a little girl carrying a basket who was in the road, and that she had struck the basket.

Chief of Police Webber testified that Mrs. Miller had admitted to him that she had run down Miss Silha. The chief said he had asked her why she didn't stop and that Mrs. Miller had replied that she was afraid. Mrs. Miller is being defended by Frank E. Withrow.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Federal Judge K. M. Landis, was selected as arbiter in the building trades lockout in effect since May 1 and affecting nearly half of the 60,000 Chicago building trades workers.

Riviera—Will Rogers in "Honest Hutch"; comedy, "When Eve Fell."

ORPHEUM VAUDEVILLE

The Rivoli's program for today consists of two Junior Orpheum vaudeville acts and a Paramount special, "The Kentuckians," in which Monte Blue is the feature player. It is a wholly adequate picturization of the celebrated novel by John Fox, Jr., and it presents a series of highly dramatic situations. Excellent support is given by Diana Allen and Wilfred Lucas, who head an unusually capable supporting company. Bobby Henshaw, the human ukulele, the late feature of Al G. Fields' minstrels, and Fred Rogers, the "Go Get 'Em Kid," a blackface singing and dancing comedian in "Just a Dark Man's Foolishness" complete the Rivoli's program for tonight.

AT THE RIVOLI

The countless thousands who have read Florence L. Barclay's great novel, "The Mistress of Shenstone," will welcome the news that in its screen adaptation by Rovertson-Cole, as a super-special vehicle for the sterling emotional actress, Pauline Frederick, not a fragment of its atmosphere, or the delicacy of its character delineations has been lost.

Miss Frederick in the role of Lady Myra Ingleby, is as truely Lady Ingleby, as if Mrs. Barclay had written the character about her. Even in her physical appearance she fits the description of the big-souled English woman who faces life's tragedies with a smile and at last finds happiness.

"The Mistress of Shenstone" opens at the Rivoli theater on Sunday.

"KAZAN"—STRAND

James Oliver Curwood, who wrote "Kazan," the screen version of which will be shown at the Strand for the last times in La Crosse tonight, is the author of some of the most successful stories of the far north ever picturized. Among his famous works which have made a sensation on the screen are "Back To God's Country," "The River's End" and "Nomads of the North." In "Kazan," which was adapted and directed by Bertram Bracken, the cast is headed by Jane Novak, supported by Ben Deeley, William Ryno, Ben Haggerty and Edwin Wallock. On Sunday Frank Mayo in "The Magnificent Brute," will be the feature picture.

VODVIL AT RIVIERA SUNDAY

Five acts of Marcus Loew vodvil will be shown at the Riviera in addition to the feature picture program. The bill consists of Khaym, billed as a "mental mystic"; Edward and Kelli, in "He Got Vamped"; Knight and June in songs, dances and comedy; Harmony Duo, a musical offering, and Paul Perry, novelty entertainer. Saturday, Will Rogers in "Honest Hutch," will be offered for the last times. The feature picture Sunday will be Jack London's "The Little Fool," played by an all-star Metro cast.

SHIRLEY MASON—CASINO

Shirley Mason in "The Flame of Youth" will be shown for the last times today at the Casino. The picture has proved an excellent attraction and has offered good entertainment for hundreds of movie fans at the Riviera and Strand theaters this week, before coming to the Casino. Tomorrow Will Rogers in "Honest Hutch" will be on the program.

PROHIBITION BILL UP FOR ACTION IN ASSEMBLY TUESDAY

Fate of Measure in Doubt; Blaine Expected to Sign if Bill is Passed

MADISON, Wis.—Amended to prohibit manufacture of home brew, the governor's prohibition enforcement bill will come up for concurrence in the assembly Tuesday or Wednesday. Wets will oppose the measure in its present form, leaving its fate in serious doubt.

The heart of the bill was removed by the senate amendment calling for strict enforcement against home brewers, dry members of the legislature say. It is their contention that the measure now provides for a more rigid enforcement act than the Matheson bill did.

Anti-saloon league representatives are taking no part in pushing passage of the bill. They declare that their only interest was to see that a good enforcement provision against home brew was incorporated, and having succeeded in securing a satisfactory amendment in the senate, their part is practically over.

Despite the amendments that have been tacked on, it is understood that Governor Blaine will sign the proposal, should it reach him.

MILWAUKEE COURT ORDERS HUTTON HELD FOR TRIAL

Denies Counsel Plea for Dismissal on Grounds Case it Not Proved

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—R. P. Hutton, superintendent of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league, was bound over to the municipal court for trial on charges of violating the corrupt practices act by Judge George E. Page in district court Friday afternoon.

The action followed the judge's refusal to dismiss the case, requested by Attorney William H. Bennett, counsel for Mr. Hutton, who alleged that the state has failed to show the commission of the offense named in the warrant and had failed to connect Mr. Hutton with such offense even if proved.

Mrs. Hutton, wife of the defendant, and office manager of the Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league, was placed on the witness stand as a state's witness against her husband, when in answer to questions by District Attorney Zabel she admitted sending a package of 1,000 letters, alleged by the complainant, Judge Levi H. Bancroft, Richland Center, to be false accusations against him in the last election, to Miss Ada James, Richland Center, Wis.

Mrs. D. M. Hicks, Milwaukee, assistant superintendent of the league, and Miss Alma Schauer, stenographer in the local headquarters of the league, also were called as state witnesses to prove the preparation of the letters and circulars complained about. The defense offered no testimony.

EIGHTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY WHO RAN AWAY FROM HOME TO JOIN THE NAVY IS HEIR TO HALF-MILLION ESTATE LEFT BY UNCLE

CHICAGO, Ill.—Elmer Ellsworth Juckett, 18, just discharged from the navy, Saturday set about collecting the fortune of $500,000 reported left him by Harry W. Wilson, an uncle, of Hot Springs, S. D. who died a few weeks ago. He quit his job in the stock room of a down town department store.

Three years ago he ran away from home and joined the navy. He served on the U. S. S. New York, and at Great Lakes naval station.

"I had a little dough saved up," he said today, "but it was mighty little and it was darn near gone when I got this job. It was labor, boy, but I was going to stick to it until I hard this news.

"I tried to get all the money I could before I left the navy. I thought I was lucky just before I was discharged. They were putting on some bouts at Great Lakes and needed a 130-pounder. I asked what was in it. The officer told me some extra money and liberty. I was out of training but I took the fellow on.

"He was a good boy and we went six rounds to a draw. I was all in, believe me. And you know what I got? Two dollars worth of tickets on the barber shop which I couldn't cash. I got a shave and hair cut out of it, that's all.

"I haven't got those half million berries yet. I'm going to meet my brother Harold tomorrow. I ought to meet him tonight 'cause I only got sixty cents with me.

"If this is the pure quill I'm going to school. You see I never went to any High school. I sold automobiles for a while and farmed a little and then did my hitch in the navy.

"Yeah, I'll meet my kid brother tomorrow—and if this is phony stuff I'm sure going to punch him on the nose."

How a Word Was Made

The very high sounding word of etiquette had a very humble origin, for etiquette meant simply a label. It received its present form from the fact that a Scotch gardener, who had laid out the ground for Louis XIV at Versailles, was much annoyed at the labels placed to indicate where they might walk. At first these labels were not attended to, but a hint from high quarters that in future the walks of the couriers must be within the "etiquettes" or labels was promptly attended to. To keep within the etiquettes became the correct thing. The meaning of the phrase was afterwards widened.

Crocodiles are rarely found in the Nile north of the first cataract in Upper Egypt.

THE WILD ASSES OF ARIZONA

In the depths of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado there are now about 2,000 wild asses which are direct descendants of animals that were domesticated in the Holy Land and neighboring regions in the time of Abraham.

Their forebears were brought to this country by the Spaniards, who were first to explore northern Arizona, through which the Grand Canyon runs. They have become a nuisance and government officials are planning to exterminate them which will be no job; for the ass, especially when wild, is one of the cleverest and most alert of animals. Xenophon, 2,500 years ago, wrote that only the swiftest horse could keep pace with a wild ass. The creature is so suspicious of man that it is difficult to get within rifle range; and as far as the lasso, one might as well try to rope a jack-rabbit. A wild ass will look back at its pursuer (as a horse will not do) and dodge a rope. It is almos impossible to get within shooting distance.

Chinese Are Particular as to Color

If you are a merchant contemplating business in China do not make use of green in the preparation of the package. Green is regarded as an unlucky color. White and blue wrappings are equally to be avoided, for in China they are the mourning colors. The report points out that English pins which were packed in blue paper proved to be unsalable, while much inferior German pins put up in red paper were snapped up at once.

Red is the color of good fortune among the Chinese. Brown is liked, if it possesses a reddish shade; so are the brighter tints of pink. Carpets and curtains should possess a yellow ground, which is an extremely popular color in both China as well as Japan. Purple, too, is liked, and gold is the imperial color.

EXAMS OCCUPYING THE ATTENTION OF STUDENTS AT U. W.

Summer Session at the University Scheduled to Open on June 25th

MADISON, Wis. — Examinations, the grand finale of the school year, are today occupying the attention of the 7,000 students attending the University of Wisconsin. Last classes of the semester were held Thursday. Friday being an open date to give opportunity for last minute cramming for the "quizzes."

Thursday, June 16, will be the last day of examinations, after which the students leave for their homes, many to return for the summer session and others to begin work for the vacation period.

The summer session this year promises to be the largest in the history of the school, university officials say. Less than a week will elapse between the commencement exercises and the opening of the summer session. Registration days have been set for June 25 and 27, with the first lectures and classes held on Tuesday, June 28.

Indications now point to an enrollment of 4,000 for the summer school. Last year the number was approximately 3,500 and was the biggest summer session ever held at Wisconsin.

This number includes many regular university students who return to finish or make up work lost during the year. Many teachers likewise attend the summer school in order to prepare themselves for better positions and to become candidates for higher degrees.

WOMEN PLEAD NOT GUILTY OF CHARGE OF KABER MURDER

Mrs. Kaber and Daughter Held Without Bail for Hearing June 28th

WOMAN INVOLVED IN KILLING IDENTIFIED BY PRISONERS

Mother Denies Charges of Alleged "Go-Between"

CLEVELAND, O.—Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, widow of Daniel F. Kaber of Lakewood, Ohio, and her daughter, Miss Marian McArdle, pleaded not guilty to the charge of first degree murder of Kaber when arraigned before Judge Bernon Saturday morning. The court set their hearing for June 28 and remanded both to jail without bail.

With the arrival from New York of Mrs. Kaber and her daughter a woman arrested several days ago was identified as being connected with the murder plot, according to the police.

Mrs. Kaber was submitted to a severe grilling upon her arrival here late Friday night.

The two prisoners were confronted by the woman, through whom Mrs. Kaber is alleged to have hired the assassins to stab her husband to death two years ago and who is alleged to have furnished poison which was administered to Kaber in his food.

Both Mrs. Kaber and Miss McArdle identified the woman. This identification brought from the Sandusky woman, police say, the admission that she had supplied "medicine" for Kaber and that it was at her home in Cleveland, shortly before the murder that Mrs. Kaber met a man to whom she promised $8,000 for "doing away with her husband."

Mrs. Kaber denied every accusation pertaining to threats on her husband's life.

tion of streets. The ordinance stated that cars or vehicles would not be permitted to pass another on approaching the intersection of a street.

A resolution was passed authorizing the payment of $5,760 as the remaining amount due by the city in payment of construction of the Black River bridge.

A resolution was passed opposing assessment of the property of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company in the city of La Crosse by the state tax commission and directed that a copy of the ordinance be sent direct to the tax commission. The city attorney was directed to oppose any attempt to make such change in the mode of taxing such property.

Keep Street Costs

Through the passage of a resolution, the board of public works was instructed to keep an account of the cost of resurfacing streets one foot from the outer rails of the city railway tracks and to charge and collect such cost of the railway company under the provisions of its charter.

The board of education was granted $17,000 to be drawn from the expense fund to be used in immediate repair of the buildings and purchase additional equipment before schools again convenes. Authority to purchase office and other equipment for the new Logan school was also given the board of education.

IF YOU'RE A LIAR—BEWARE!

These are bad days for liars. Dr. James Cotton, Toronto, (inset) has invented an improved ether under whose influence a liar will tell the truth. But he won't divulge its secret because it's dangerous, he says. Above is a device, however, that it is claimed will detect a lie by registering blood pressure and respiration changes. It's the invention of William M. Marston (center), Boston lawyer and scientist, and Harvard faculty member.

DECKER GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE FOR THE SLAYING OF LOVETT

WARSAW, Ind. — Mrs. Lydia Decker and her two sons, Fred and Calvin probably will be tried soon on the charge of murdering Leroy Lovett, 20, of Elkhart, county officials announced Saturday. Virgil Decker, 19, another son, was convicted late Friday by a jury, and his punishment fixed at life imprisonment. Virgil, according to the state's contention, committed the murder as a part of a plot to obtain $24,000 insurance. Lovett, it is alleged, was picked as the victim because of his resemblance to Virgil Decker, the plan being to murder Lovett and then identify his body as that of Decker so the insurance money might be collected. Virgil heard the verdict without emotion.

DEALS WITH NATIONS OF EUROPE TO BE SUBMITTED TO U. S.

WASHINGTON.—Financial transactions of an international character entered into by American bankers with private banks abroad, or with foreign governments will first be submitted to the government for approval under an agreement reached at President Harding's conference with J. P. Morgan and other international bankers.

The understanding was reached, it was said in administration circles Friday, because of the American government's interest in world economic readjustments and because of the position of the United States as a creditor nation. No general policy will be adopted by the bankers, it was said, without formal government approval.

BURIAL PLACE OF JOHN CALVIN IS SOUGHT IN GENEVA

GENEVA.—The spot where John Calvin, the protestant reformer, is buried is being sought by the authorities on information furnished by a man who says he is a descendant of Calvin. The location of the grave has been handed down through the Calvin family under pledge of secrecy, according to the man, who is 71 years of age, and as he is without issue he believed it his duty to divulge the location to the ecclesiastical consistory at Geneva.

Tradition has it that John Calvin, who died May 27, 1564, was buried "in the cemetery in Geneva called Plain-Palais," but the exact spot has not been identified.

One in Fourteen Has an Auto

Western states have taken to the automobile much more rapidly than has the east and south, according to data secured by the Omaha Chamber of Commerce from the state departments handling automobile registrations in each state. There are now about 7,500,000 automobiles in the United States on an average of one for each 13.3 persons, according to the figures compiled. Trucks are included with pleasure cars because many states do not segregate the types of vehicles. California heads the list with one car for every 6.2 persons. Iowa ranks fourth with 7.9. New York thirty-fifth with 18.6 and Mississippi last with 41.1. Of the first on the list 10 are practically all southern or southeastern states.

IMPOSING MILITARY ARRAY MARKS RITES FOR LEGION CHIEF

French Officers Represent Jusserand at Funeral of Colonel Galbraith

CINCINNATI, Ohio.—Not since the funeral of General Joseph J. Hooker of civil war fame, which took place in the seventies, has there been such a military funeral cortege in this city as that which was presented as the sequel to the services Saturday afternoon over the body of Colonel Fred Galbraith, national commander of the American Legion, who was killed in an automobile accident in Indianapolis. The funeral was given an international phase by the presence of Marcel Knecht, French high commissioner to the United States, and Captain Levergne, air attache of the French embassy at Washington, who will represent Ambassador Jusserand.

Clark today declared there was no skull fracture and that Mr. Foreman would soon recover.

BIG CLASS GIVEN DIPLOMAS AT THE NORMAL ON FRIDAY

organization of the country, and in order to bring about that reform, it is necessary that education be made accessible to every person in the country.

"Many persons send their children to private schools because they think that they receive better training, are in the hands of more capable teachers, and are in more wholesome atmosphere than in the public school. This should be for if public schools are made good enough for the best, they are still none too good for the poorest. Private schools build up caste, which is a bad thing for the nation. The only remedy for this is to raise the level of the public school to that of the best private schools.

"This cannot be done with poorly trained teachers. The best minds of the graduating classes of the universities should be going into the teaching profession because with all the present teachers and the graduates of the normal schools and teachers' colleges of the land, there will still remain more than three-fourths of the vacancies to be filled by untrained people, many of whom are only eighth grade graduates."

Must Pay Them Well

"Teachers should receive enough salary to enable them to live rich, normal lives, but the teaching profession should not degenerate into a money making scheme. It should be entered not with the idea of becoming wealthy, but for the love of rendering service to humanity. The children lose when the teachers are poorly paid, for a teacher who cannot afford to travel, buy good books, witness good plays and, in general, enjoy the finer things of life, cannot convey to her pupils the lessons which these things would teach.

"Regard for the physical well being of the child is one of the essentials of education. We have in the past paid too little attention to the physical side of education."

In summing up, Mr. Magill said that the most crying need today is equal opportunity to all. The school system should reach every child in the country. There should be no districts like the mountains of North Carolina, where the majority of people pass through life without the knowledge of how to read or write.

STATE DEPUTY IS HERE ON CHILD LABOR PROBLEMS

Mr. Frederickson, a deputy of the industrial commission is in La Crosse and will remain at the La Crosse hotel until Sunday afternoon. He will be pleased to discuss with employers any questions concerning the child labor laws in the state of Wisconsin.

Below is a copy of a letter which has been sent out by Mr. Taylor Frye, deputy of the industrial commission to many cities in the state. Feeling that there would be some confusion concerning new laws regarding child labor, Mr. Coleman of the vocational school has asked that a copy of this letter be published. The letter follows:

"I am inclosing a copy of bill 486A. The records shows that this bill has passed both houses of the legislature without change and has been signed by the governor.

"You will note that the only work that children may do without labor permits is work usual to the home of the employer. Such work must not be in connection with nor form a part of the business, trade, profession or occupation of the employer. Under this law, children may do certain work about the employer's home, such as shoveling snow from the sidewalk, throwing in wood and carrying out ashes, without a labor permit. Aside from this, permits are required throughout the year the same as heretofore.

"There is danger that many employes will be misled by this new law and will employ children without labor permits in their business, trade, profession or occupation, thereby violating the law and incurring its penalties and liabilities for treble compensation if the children so unlawfully employed are injured.

"You will be doing a favor to the people of your community if you can get the newspapers to give correct publicity to this law.

(Signed)
"INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION,
"Taylor Frye, Deputy."

WORTHAM SHOWS TO CLOSE TONIGHT AFTER A BIG WEEK

Crowds Attend the Carnival at the Fair Grounds on Friday Night

The La Crosse fair grounds was crowded with merry makers last night, who visited the C. A. Wortham shows and enjoyed the different attractions to their heart's content. It was just like the old time county fair, when everyone was present and everyone had a great time, as there was plenty to amuse and interest all those on the grounds.

Tonight is the last night for this gigantic amusement enterprise and those who have not yet taken in all of the Wortham shows, should make the best of this opportunity, as it is hardly possible that another carnival company of the size and merit of the Wortham show will visit La Crosse for some time. The Wortham show has made good in every way and fully lived up to all the promises made by the advance representatives. It is the largest, cleanest and best tent show that has been in this section of the country and everyone has had a good word to say for the shows.

Arrangements have been completed to accommodate the largest crowd of the week, and in many of the shows there will be a complete change of program, so that those who saw the shows earlier in the week will have a chance of seeing something new and different tonight.

Asks Discharge if Report of London Address is Found Correct

DENVER, Col.—The recall of Admiral Sims from England and his dishonorable discharge from the United States navy by President Harding, if his remarks in London on the Irish question are found to be correctly quoted was demanded in a resolution presented Friday in the annual convention of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor.

MARKET HITS BOTTOM

Low Records For Several Years Made By Leading Stocks in Saturday Trading

NEW YORK—Low records for a year or more were made by leading issues in the course of Saturday's short but active dealings on the stock exchange. Further depression seemed to result largely from the more agressive operations of shorts but signs of additional liquidation were not lacking. Oils, including Standard Oil of New Jersey and Mexican Petroleum lost 2 to 5 points. Steels and equipments, notably Crucible, Harvester preferred and General Electric fell 1 to 3½ and Motors, Sugars and Tobaccos forfeited 1 to 3 points. Coalers were heaviest of the rails declining 1 to 3 points but Southern Pacific preferred showed conspicuous strength. The close was heavy. Sales approximated 400,000 shares.

The week-end session on the stock market opened with an extension of the recent general reaction. Steels, oils, equipments, shippings and sugar were again most susceptible to pressure. Losses of one to three points were sustained in the early tradings by Crucible Steel, Pressed Steel Car, Baldwin Locomotive, Mexican Petroleum, General Asphalt and American Sugar. Other heavy to weak issues embraced United Fruit, American Can preferred, Atlantic Gulf, Famous Players and Columbia Graphaphone preferred. The only railroad issue to show marked heaviness was Northern Pacific which declined ⅜ points.

WHEAT MARKET EASIER

Rally Follows Early Break; Other Grains Also Lower

CHICAGO, Ill.—Wheat prices were easier at the opening of the Chicago Board of Trade Saturday. Transactions were largely from the professional element. July started 1 to 2c lower at $1.34 to $1.35¾. September opened similarly down at $1.17¼ to ¾. Buying developed after the break reached 2c off yesterday's close and continued on rumors of black rust in Nebraska and some indications of a possible wet harvest in other sections.

Rust reports persisted and the sentiment turned bullish, the close being near the top for the session. July wound up at $1.38¾ to ½ and September $1.23¾ to $1.24.

In the corn pit recent extended hedges changing between July and September resulted in bringing the two options together. July started ⅛c lower at 61¾c to 62c and September opened ⅝ to ½c lower at 62 to ⅛c.

The corn market turned strong with wheat, July and September moving in unison. Both closed 63¾ to 64c.

Oats were easier with other grains July opening 37⅛ to ¼c.

Provisions were quiet and trade small.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS CELEBRATE FOURTH ON WINONA TRIP

The first High school excursion at Winona, nearly resulted disastrously for three High school youths, who came within an ace of spending the night in the jug. Unlike Wisconsin, fireworks can be obtained in Minnesota, and because of five years of "safe and sane" Fourths, they planned to celebrate. For some reason, the Winona cops objected to the noise going on in the city, and started out to round up the offenders.

The police captured three of the local students, Hazael Curry, Emmet Smith and Charles McDonald, but were unable to get Kenneth Sheperdson, the other offender, who raced around the corner waving good-bye to them, and disappeared.

Then started the march to the lock-up. By this time a fairly sizable crowd had gathered, and the Winona police headed a procession up the main street, with the three captives in tow and half the excursionists in their wake.

Enter Mr. Collinge, the principal of the High school, to the rescue. With L. J. Kilian, as a co-talker, he convinced the desk sergeant that the boys were too young for a stay in the coop, and that if the sale of fireworks was allowed, the use of them ought also to be put up with.

By this time, the hour and a half shore leave was about over, and the party had to speed up to make the boat on time. As they left the shore, a general fusilade of torpedoes rang out from the rocks on the levee. The "cops" were not visible.

COLORED GIANTS FORCED TO PLAY TIGHT BALL HERE

Nelsons Lose Hard Fought Contest to Gilkerson's Outfit at Copeland Park, 3 to 1

SPECTATORS APPLAUD NEW NELSON PITCHER

"Red" Hix Makes Notable Showing With Local Club

Forced to play tight ball throughout the entire game, the Union Giants Friday evening repeated with another victory over the Nelson Clothing company baseball team at Copeland park, 3 to 1.

Hix, old time leaguer, in the box for the local aggregation, showed wonderful ability against the visitors, allowing but five hits off his delivery and dropping eight men at the plate in eight innings. Hodge and Smith were credited with the only safeties garnered off Jackson of the Giants, who passed five men, forcing in the single score of the locals and striking nine men out.

New Pitcher Popular

The appearance of Hix with the local aggregation met with the enthusiastic approval of the fans. "Red" is originally from Philadelphia and his work on the mound last night proved without a doubt that he has the "stuff." That he is a hurler of unusual ability is evidenced by the statement of Manager Gilkerson, of the Giants, who declared that the new addition to the pitching staff of the Nelsons is one of the hardest men that they have been called upon to face for some time. Hix was well received and applauded several times by the stands as he sauntered up to the plate and in addition received the hearty endorsement and support of the fans.

Hits Were Singles

In contrast to the exhibition staged on Thursday evening where two and three base hits were nothing unusual, batsmen of either team Friday night failed to clout for more than a single base.

The only score of the locals came in the third inning as a result of three men passed and failure on the part of the shortstop to field Smith's grounder. Having previously walked two men, the error filled the bases, Kiandrud scoring on a forced play when Hodge received a walk.

The Giants' rally to tie the score came in the succeeding frame when Poole and Wilson clouted singles in succession, the former scoring on Jackson's bunt laid down in front of the plate. Hix showed form in the box at this stage when he dropped the remaining two men at the plate. Colman previously was thrown out at first.

Held safely in check during the succeeding frames, the Giants threatened to score in the seventh. Ritchie led off with a single through short and was advanced to second on Jones' safe bunt. Evans, the clown of the outfit, came up to the plate and motioned the fielders back. He filed out to right field and the next two up were thrown out at first.

Giants Score

Poole led off with a drive to center field in the eighth which started the victory rally. The clout under ordinary circumstances would have been good for a single, but the runner advanced to third when Hodge failed to get under the drive. The runner scored on a passed ball by Tanke. Wilson bunted and went to second on an overthrow to first. Johnson took Jackson's grounder and his attempt to throw Poole out at third failed. Jackson stole second and scored on Ritchie's sacrifice.

The Giants have been secured for two additional games on July 11 and 15.

LOCAL RIFLE CLUB BEGINS OUTDOOR SHOOTING SUNDAY

The La Crosse Rifle club will begin shooting on the outdoor range Sunday morning, it was announced by the secretary of the club Saturday morning.

It was stated that the riflemen will be permitted to use the range in the forenoon only, giving over the range to Battery D, National Guard Field artillery, which will fire sub-calibers in the field pieces. Incidentally, the field artillery work will be the first ever attempted on a range in the city of La Crosse.

Worms Were the First Ploughmen

The worms which came out of the water were the first colonizers of the earth. They started the habit of always moving one end of the body first. They were the first cultivators of the earth, the makers of fertile soil and the ploughers long before the plough was thought of.

LA CROSSE AND ETTRICK GAME IS ATTRACTION AT COPELAND PARK SUNDAY

Having given the two twilight games the usual re-hash, fans in the city are centering their interest around the coming attraction at Copeland park Sunday between the La Crosse baseball club and the aggregation from Ettrick.

The La Crosse team will be represented on the mound by "Rusty" Kerr, Portage, a new addition to the locals' pitching staff who is reputed to alone be worth the price of admission.

Kerr has been permanently secured by the local club and established himself as a capable mound man in the game against the hard hitting Caledonia crew last Sunday when he allowed the Gophers but three hits and dropped fourteen men at the plate.

La Crosse batsmen will be called upon to face in Heggy, hurler for the Ettrick ball club, one of the strongest pitchers in the northern section of the state. Heggy won his game from Independence last Sunday on the latter's diamond when he allowed the home team but a single safety. He was credited with ten strikeouts in the game.

The Ettrick aggregation also carries a home run artist, known as plain "Butch." He is reputed to be a healthy man with the stick.

Sunday's attraction will start promptly at 3 o'clock standard time. Come out and give the south side team a rousing send off.

DESCAMPS STATES THAT CARPENTIER'S CONDITION IS GOOD

Would be Foolish to Train too Hard Now, Says Frenchman's Manager

MANHASSET, N. J.—Georges Carpentier's physical condition is such now that it would be foolish for him to train too hard, Francois Descamps, his manager, said Friday. This statement, he said, did not mean that the challenger was not working, but Descamps bore out the fact that most of the real hard work was being done in private.

Manager Descamps' knowledge of the English language does not permit him, he declared, to express his opinion of a number of writers who have criticised the challenger while watching him at work.

"Georges is happy," he said today "and has no fear for the coming fight. We want to keep him in this frame of mind, but with a lot of scarecrows around there is no telling what might happen. Georges wants to win and believes he is good enough to do it."

When Carpentier enters the ring with Jack Dempsey that fact, as well as every move he makes until the heavyweight championship is decided, will be flashed across the Atlantic by wireless. Sitting in Paris waiting eagerly to hear of each blow struck by her husband will be Madame Carpentier.

LANDIS SELECTED AS ARBITER IN STRIKE OF BUILDING TRADES

CHICAGO.—Approximately 30,000 men employed in the building trades will be back at work next week and construction valued at nearly $100,000,000 will be under way in a short time, contractors declared, as the result of the selection of Federal Judge K. M. Landis to be arbiter in the the wage controversy in Chicago between the building trades and the contractors.

With the selection of the umpire to decide the dispute, the contractors called off the lockout which has been in effect since May 1 and are making plans to begin work at once on millions of dollars worth of construction.

YANKS IN PARIS WILLING TO BET ON CARPENTIER

PARIS.—The months of Americans in Paris are watering at the reports from the United States that Jack Dempsey's backers are laying 4 to 1 on the titleholder.

The average American here is willing to take a piece of the Georges end if he can bet 3 to 1, figuring that no prize fight ever held warrants such odds. But the best prices quoted here are 2 to 1.

Newly arriving Americans state 4 and even 5 to 1 are being placed in America, but decline to take on any frames at that price. French bettors are holding out, demanding 2½ to 1, with few wagers recorded.

Pearl White, the movie actress, is reported to have bet Edward Letellier, the publisher, 5,000 francs against 2,000.

Lord Derby, former British ambassador, is said to have bet 1,000 pounds on Carpentier, getting 3 to 1 in London.

Most of the sports here are giving bankrolls to their friends who are going to America to the fight, asking them to place the money at the best obtainable ringside odds.

DEMPSEY BACK AT WORK AFTER TAKING VACATION FRIDAY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—After a twenty-four hour layoff Jack Dempsey swung back into his training grind Saturday. The champion was away from camp yesterday, motoring to Camden, N. J., to bring back his Belgian police dog.

A physician who stitched the champion's damaged eye, told him that the wound had sufficiently healed to permit the resumption of boxing without the danger of further injury. Dempsey's sparring partners, however, will be compelled to wear head guards to lessen the possibility of reopening the cut.

COUNTY BOARD TO HOLD ITS PICNIC NEXT WEDNESDAY

The county board of supervisors will hold its annual picnic next Wednesday on the John Richmond farm, French Island. It will be an all-day affair. There will be all kinds of good things to eat, a program of sports and a general good time. All past members of the county board are invited. County officials in the court house also will attend the picnic.

Our National Bonfire

Fires in the United States in five years have destroyed property worth nearly $1,500,000,000. Electricity is given as the chief cause of fires, with "matches-smoking" second; defective chimneys and flues, third; stoves, furnaces, boilers and pipes, fourth; spontaneous combustion, fifth; lightning, sixth; sparks on roofs seventh; and petroleum and its products, eighth.

STRIKE THREATENS SUPPLY OF "DOGS" AT CONEY ISLAND

NEW YORK.—Coney Island Saturday faced labor troubles that may cause the thousands that flock to the playground to go hungry during their visit.

The cry of many vendors of the delicacy known as "hot dog" may not resound along the board-walk Sunday for members of the Sausage Stuffers' union have decided that they will stuff sausage eight hours a day and no longer, while the employers insist they should work ten at reduced wages. Conferences have failed to bring about an agreement.

Germany purchased sphagnum moss in Scotland for many years prior to the war.

Frenchman Busy in Ring and Spectators are Excluded on Friday

MANHASSET, L. I. — Secrecy still prevails at Georges Carpentier's fighting camp. Yesterday was open day at the Frenchman's quarters, but Friday they clamped down the old bars and while Georges worked behind closed doors, several hundred curious folks were shunted away from the gate with instruction that Mr. Carpentier was busily engaged cuffing around his stable of boxing companions and must not be disturbed.

Through an underground route we found out that Georges spent as much as two hours on the road in the morning, accompanied by Paul Journeo and Gus Wilson. The same route contained the information that the pet dog, Flip, was a member of the party.

Boxes Several Rounds.

These are sure rough days for the war correspondents who are trying to gather some information from the most exclusive training camp in the history of the old game.

However, you can't keep a squirrel on the ground and Georges and the other members of his staff will probably be surprised to learn that we know that he boxed several rounds with his sparring partners and went through his usual didoes in the gym.

All of which will be startling news to the outside world who are anxious to learn just what kind of a chance the French challenger has against the great Jack Dempsey.

Sam McVey Looks for Punches

We noticed old Sam McVey lurking around the premises yesterday, but we can hardly imagine Georges calling in the rough colored veteran to take a hand in the game. Then again Magnues Larsen, a hard hitting Swede just graduated from the amateurs, was said to be on hand to get a slant at the Frenchman, but it is a dollar to a plugged nickel that old Magnues was slipped the rollers if he tried to bust his way into that layout.

The correspondents were busily engaged this evening procuring long white whiskers and other disguises, in the hope of crashing the gate tomorrow. Deschamps has given his orders to the constable in charge of the entrance and he is a mighty tough bird to get by. However, the mob may hire some one to clear the barrier and bring back the lowdown on the whole works.

Work for the Willing

The Government of China is evincing considerable interest in road building and a very elaborate scheme of highway activity has been outlined. Considerable work is being done in connection with the famine relief work whereby food is given to those who are able to make some return for it by working on the roads.

NEW ELIGIBILITY RULE FOR SPORTS AT MINNESOTA U.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—A new eligibility ruling at the University of Minnesota by which students with failures may regain an eligible standing in one quarter was announced Friday by R. West, registrar. The new ruling is effective immediately and is considered a great help to athletes, who in the past had to remain ineligible an entire year. The new ruling would place the student on probation for one quarter, and should his work in that time prove satisfactory the failure would be automatically removed.
